Kendrick Garage Under New Ownership

"Welcome to our beautiful "Kendrick Garage"! It is a 106-year-old retired service station nestled here in a small Idaho town. This 4,250 sq ft space is full of so much history and character. We are beyond excited to bring this treasure back to life and make it our own." When I saw this post on Facebook, I knew I had to explore it further and get an article in the newsletter.

Autumn replied with the following, "Our names are Nick, Autumn and Lena (the shop dog), and we are very excited to introduce ourselves as the new owners of the Kendrick Garage. Don't be alarmed if you see the Kendrick Garage sign come down. It will be going right back up with a fresh coat of paint. Our intent is to preserve all the character and history in this building, and to keep it a car garage - as it has been since 1915. We will be posting videos of the remodel progress on our YouTube channel if you want to follow along. We absolutely love the town of Kendrick and look forward to being part of the community.

While we may be new to Kendrick, this area is home to us. Nick was born and raised in Latah County and Autumn's family has a ranch in Troy. By day, Nick is a mechanical designer on the SEL engineering team, and Autumn is a welder/fabricator in the SEL prototype shop. Outside of work, our passion is working on cars and custom fabrication - and it has been a passion since we were both very young.

Our garage won't be directly open to the public. We do select custom work and share our projects on our Youtube channel called "Wrench & Chill". You will also see us through our sponsorships (a few of which are O'Reilly Auto Parts, K&N, Keen and Washington Alloy Welding Rod). This garage will be much more than just a hobby to us - it is a lifestyle that has been in our families for over three generations, and a legacy that we plan to continue."

Welcome to Kendrick Autumn Weppner, Nick McPherson, and Lena. Sharon Harris

Where Are They Now?

Holli Heinen graduated in 2016 from Kendrick High School. She was a three-sport athlete and worked at the Kendrick War Memorial pool here in town. When asked her favorite thing about living in a small town she answered,

"Community connections are forever, and you can always find your way back home."

Holli then went on to college at the University of Montana in Missoula.

She received her degree in Elementary Education and

Special Education, while working at the university pool as a lifeguard and swim instructor. She graduated from U of M in 2020. She stated that one challenge she had in earning her degree was having to student teach during the pandemic. "It was very challenging to teach the kids through online learning."

In the past year, she has been working as a private teacher and a swim instructor at the Peak Health and Wellness Center. Holli will be moving to Maui, Hawaii, in September with her friend Layne Harris, a KHS classmate of hers. She will be working as a private swimming instructor on the island and is excited to explore the Hawaiian culture. Holli is also an advocate for families affected by fentanyl. You can follow and gain more information about her advocating journey by checking out Be That Friend on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter.

NEWS FROM THE JCIA

The Juliaetta Community Improvement Association has been very busy with many projects. We recently received a grant from the Kendrick Juliaetta Recreational District for a projector system and screen for the center. This greatly expands our ability to provide new services to our community.

Next time you have a meeting or party remember us! You will have access to this wonderful projector system generously provided by the Kendrick/Juliaetta Recreation District.

We have been steadily working on our ADA upstairs restroom at the center. This project was interrupted due to Covid-19, but we are happy to say it is nearing completion and will be ready for use soon. We have received funding from many different sources and are still receiving assistance with this project. Upon its completion, we will gratefully list all contributors and give them their well-deserved recognition.

Currently, we are preparing for the 20th Annual Juliaetta Blackberry Festival and Classic Car Show. Coincidentally, the first festival was also on Sept. 11th. We are planning a great show and hope everyone will come out and enjoy the day with us. We sincerely hope that the smoke from the wild fires and Covid 19 do not interfere with the festivities.

And finally we would like to remind the community that we are here for you. Recently due to the extreme heat we offered the building as a cooling station for anyone who might need it. And again, we opened our doors to anyone who is displaced by the Lenore fire as safe haven during this trying time as emergency housing. If there is a need that we can help fill, please let us know.

Also, if you would like to come join us at a meeting, we meet the first Thursday of each month at the Community Center. We greatly appreciate any input you might have or any volunteering you might want to do.

Hope to see you all at the 20th Annual Blackberry Festival and Classic Car Show. Kathy Groseclose

JK Fire News

We would like to thank the community during the 4th of July holiday for their cooperation in not discharging fireworks.

Please continue to be vigilant and safe during this very dry summer. This has been a very busy season for the departments.

Juliaetta and Kendrick Fire departments are both accepting applications for volunteers to join their departments. Attend a meeting and inquire. Juliaetta meets on the 2nd and 4th Wednesday at 7:00 pm at their Fire hall, and Kendrick meets at their hall on the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays at 6:30 pm.

Upcoming event: Saturday September 11th the Juliaetta Firefighters will be back at the Juliaetta Car Show and Blackberry Festival starting at 11:00 am for their BBQ Burger Lunch fundraiser. They will be serving Hamburgers, Zana's Potato Salad or chips, and Baked Beans. Come enjoy the day and have a delicious lunch. See you there! Rose Norris

Community Building Day

KJ & 7 Ridges Education Foundation is excited to once again be holding our annual Community Building Day with Kendrick Jr./Sr. High School students. Our 2021 work day is the morning of Oct. 15th. If any local business, club or civic organization or person could use our help with a project, reach out to Amber Witt at 208-790-8938 or Tawnya Feldman at 208-669-0271 to get on our list. We're excited to put all our youth and energy to work with a little Fall cleanup! Tawnya Feldman

Hill and Valley Garden Club

One of our main projects has been the town welcome signs at the north and south side of Kendrick on Route 3, as you have been reading about for several issues.

Members signed up on a monthly schedule to plant and maintain the gardens around each sign; the south side is irrigated, but the north side is not. The club also maintains a native plant garden. Containers were also added at the corners of the central block of Main Street and maintained by the businesses at those corners. HVGC members check on them periodically. The pots have fared well despite the heat.

In Juliaetta, two of the members, Polly Taylor – Dennler and her mother, Dorothy Taylor have planted numerous containers and keep them watered daily with a water tank on their truck. They also maintain the Memorial Garden at the park and a “Pink garden” in memory of cancer survivors. The annual June garden tour for the membership had to be canceled this year due to the heat. Many thanks to those watering and to Rob Clemenhagen for hanging the new signs.

The club officers have all agreed to stay on an extra term due to all the COVID cancellations that occurred over the last two years. That was welcome news. The officers are Barbara Heimgartner, President; Raina Weyen, Vice President; Sharon Harris, Treasurer; and Kathy Cassin, Secretary. The meetings are held on the fourth Tuesday of the month, at the Kendrick Grange beginning at 1:00 pm until about 3:00 pm including the speaker’s presentation or activity. Dues are only $12.00 for the year. The first meeting is Tuesday, September 28th. There was no August meeting. Possible topics for the year include floral designs using unconventional ideas and avoiding oasis, pressed flowers, DIY planter suggestions, Hypertufa planters, drip irrigation possibilities, water-wise gardening, gardening with native plants, and pruning roses. Pruning roses will be our Sept topic as we get the gardens ready for winter. Plans include the Annual Wreath and Greens sale in December. If anyone has any additional topic suggestions, feel free to pass them on to any of the members.

The club would also like to recognize two new members: Sherill Calhoun and Megan Webb. For member information contact Kathy Cassin at 280-289-4640.

Leland Church News

Historically at Leland there were two churches located directly across from each other on Main Street. They were both Methodist Episcopal Churches, but they had a difference of opinion on the issue of slavery. Although they were neighbors, they did not worship together. Both churches were erected early with the South church being built in 1890 followed by the North church construction in 1895.

Prior to that time the area was served by a circuit rider pastor of the United Brethren named Rev. John A. Black. He eventually erected a church and it flourished for a time in 1901, before most of its members moved away. Walter Hoffman tore it down in 1915 and moved the lumber to his place to build a house.

Methodist Church South became inactive in 1946 and was torn down in 1962, and the lumber given to the Peck parsonage. Methodist North remained open until 1932, when it became inadequate to serve a growing congregation. Under the able leadership of Rev. Howard Graybeal, a new church was constructed in 1933 with the help of local volunteer labor. It was dedicated on December 17, 1933 and is still standing today with its four Doric columns and beautiful stained glass windows.

The church thrived until lack of participation closed its doors in 1972. It remained closed until Jim and Juanita Soyk reopened it thirty years later, in September 2002 with one hundred guests celebrating the reopening. For the next dozen years, the church would host Christian performing groups for the entertainment and enjoyment of the community. The church has been offering Sunday morning services at 10: am continually since that time.

You are welcome anytime. Sharon Harris

Lions Launch a New Year

Cameron Lutheran Church

The Lion's International Health Screening Van will be at the Juliaetta Blackberry Festival. This is a chance to get a free health screening for vision, hearing, diabetes, blood pressure and glaucoma. The screenings are open to the public and all results are confidential. No appointment is necessary.

Our major fundraiser is the Community Calendar. Please call or email your updates and changes for the coming year. 208-289-4622 or 25skharis@gmail.com. We will send off the order in late September. If you have a photo you would like to enter for consideration for this year's calendar, please send it to the above email. We are grateful to the local businesses that support the calendar project by advertising. Your calendar is a very affordable $10.00 per year.

Sharon Harris

It is so exciting to have a couple things on our schedule again! It is sort of like planning to build a tower with Jello, with wildfires and nasty air and extreme heat and COVID running our lives as this is being written, but it's worth a try.

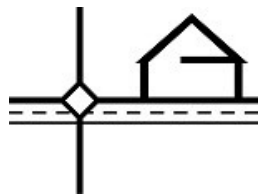

Cameron is returning to its winter hours on Sunday, August 29. Worship will begin at 10:00 A.M. each Sunday, and will be either in the sanctuary, out in the yard, or in the church basement depending on weather and smoke and COVID restrictions. Come join us and be surprised! Beginning Sept. 12, each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Pastor Craig will have a session in the sanctuary called Pastor Pals, which will be primarily for young children and primary-school-age children. This will be a time for questions and stories and sharing, and although geared for kids, ALL are welcome. Adult Sunday School will begin meeting at 9:00 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 19. We will be studying the books of Samuel this year. There is incredible history in these two books, and dozens of interesting people. We will concentrate on some of those people: Hannah, Eli, Samuel, King Saul, Jonathan, David (shepherd, servant to Saul, fugitive, warrior, king, adulterer, predecessor of Jesus,) some of David's children, treacherous subordinates of David and Saul...and how we fit all this into our faith-lives. Again, ALL are welcome.

Until the spread of COVID is under better control, Pastor Craig asks that people wear masks if attending a gathering inside the building.

We are confidently planning to have the annual turkey dinner and bazaar on Saturday, Oct. 16. Dinner will begin at 5 p.m., and the auction at approximately 7 p.m. The bazaar had to be canceled because of COVID last year, and we are praying that we will find a safe way to have it this year. We have two years-worth of lovely hand-quilted quilts and other crafts for the auction and are looking forward to seeing those who come to support us...and enjoy a fantastic, all-homemade turkey dinner! Watch for further publicity as the time gets nearer. Contact Ann Parks if you have any questions.

For any questions about activities at Cameron call the church at (208) 289-3471 or Pastor Craig Groseclose at (208) 289-3472.

Southwick Community Center

Reminder, The Southwick Community Center will be hosting our Annual Fundraiser "Octoberfest" Saturday October 2, 2021 from 4pm-8pm at the Community Center. BBQ brauts, kraut and salads.

We are excited to have Beargrass providing Music for the event. This will also be the Grand Opening for the new indoor restroom. We want to give a special thank you to Tim and Charlotte Parsley for doing the build out and Georgia Carpetworks for donating the flooring. And to the various donations from community members and businesses.

Looking forward to seeing everyone.

The City of Juliaetta News

A Fresh Coat of Paint

A library-themed mural has been painted on the front of the Juliaetta Community Library by Mina Sandino, featuring some of her favorite books, as well as requests from City employees. Do you see any of your favorites? Mina also repainted the Welcome to Juliaetta signs at either end of town. We hope residents and visitors alike enjoy her artistic talents!

Long, Hot Summer

In mid-July we posted a notice of possible water shortage on the City's facebook page, due to the drought and high temperatures. While water restrictions have not yet needed to be imposed, we want to let residents know that it could still be a possibility. Our water plant operators have been working hard to keep the reservoirs full, and they would like to thank all those who have conserved water this summer. Fire danger also remains very high. For this reason, the burn ban and fireworks ban imposed at the beginning of July remains in place, and will stand until further notice.

Election 2021

Two four-year City Council positions are up for election November 2. These seats are currently held by Nick Anderson and Jeff Klone. The candidate filing period opened August 23, and will close September 3 at 5:00 pm. Write-in candidates may file until September 10. Candidates must be 18 years of age, a U.S. citizen, their primary residence must be within City limits, and they must be a registered voter. For more information, contact City Hall.

October is Clean Up Month

Take advantage of fall clean up month Saturday, October 2 and October 16 at the bulky waste site. New this year, the site will only accept household waste on those days. This includes plastic and rubber materials, small appliances, railroad ties, tents, tarps/canvas, contaminated waste, insulation, Styrofoam, and fiberglass. No demolition waste, yard waste, metal, or tires will be accepted in October. If you have questions, please call Latah County Solid Waste at 1-800-691-2012.

City Council Meetings and Upcoming Closures

Upcoming City Council meetings will be held on Tuesday, September 14 and Tuesday, October 12. These meetings begin at 7:00 pm. Agendas are posted in the window at City Hall the week before each meeting, as well as at cityofjuliaetta.com. The public is always welcome to attend. If you have an issue you would like to have added to the agenda, you must contact City Hall by the Wednesday before the meeting, at noon.

City Hall will be closed on Labor Day, Monday, September 6 and Columbus Day, Monday, October 11, as well as September 21-23 while we attend a conference.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

The Idaho Association of Highway Districts announced an award of a $1000.00 college scholarship to daughter of a South Latah Highway District employee. SLHD presented the scholarship to Miss Abigale Roberts, a senior at Deary High School. Abigale is the daughter of Brandi and Bruce Roberts. The award ceremony was held June 7, 2021, at the SLHD's regular monthly meeting.

Abigale Roberts recently graduated from Deary High School where she maintained a 3.6 GPA. She will begin her college years at Lewis Clark State College by taking undergraduate classes to obtain a degree in Biology/Nursing. Because of her love for animals, Abigale plans on continuing her education by applying to the Veterinary School at Washington State University.

Abigale Roberts and Kevin Renfrow

In addition to her outstanding GPA, Abigale has an incredible record of volunteering in the community. She states, "I will always be a public servant to the humans and animals in the world." The Idaho Association of Highway Districts is proud to award this scholarship to this amazing young woman.

In 2019, Miss Kayleigh Aherin, granddaughter of Pat and Linda Aherin of Genesee, also received a $1000.00 IAHD scholarship to pursue her Nursing degree at Lewis Clark State College.

The IAHD Scholarship Fund awarded seventeen $1000 college scholarships to the children and grandchildren of highway district employees and commissioners throughout the state of Idaho in 2021. The objective of the Idaho Association of Highway Districts Scholarship fund is to help deserving Idaho students from predominantly underserved rural areas receive a college education.

The Grange

The ladies of the Grange provided hot dogs, popcorn, and root beer floats in the park for the recent Car Show in Kendrick.

Mark your calendar for September 10th for a Farmers Market in the Kendrick Park from 4pm – 8pm. Besides farm produce, there will be vendors on hand with their wares.

It is never too early to book the hall for your events, especially with the holidays coming up. Sharon Harris

New at the Museum

The family of Winslow and Mary McCallister, who lived above the current KHS building on the road to Bear Ridge, donated items including a mannequin to display clothing of the last century. However, women had such tiny waists from wearing cinch-up corsets that the clothing is too small for the mannequin. It is on display with a trunk donated by the family of Dorothy Meyer Schnaible.

We have had many visitors to the museum over the summer. We were open on the day of the Car Show in Kendrick and gave many tours. Recently we had visitors from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and from Holland.

We have received a lovely display cabinet from the Kendrick Methodist Church. Chris and Will Loo gave a hand moving it to the museum.

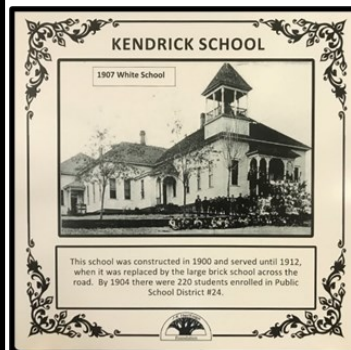

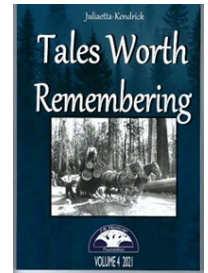

The KHS Cheerleading squad has been lending a hand with tasks at the museum.

Watch for our booth at the Blackberry Festival in September. Sharon Harris

New at J K Heritage Foundation

We are happy to announce a new copy of Tales Worth Remembering is available for purchase for $15.00 at Phil's Family Foods or Furry Tales in Kendrick. The latest volume contains chapters on the following topics: On the Wrong Side of the Law, Family Tales, Playing with Danger, Pioneer Profiles, Tall Timber Tales, and Tales from the Cemetery. It is also available from any JKHF member. We will have them at our booth at the Blackberry Festival in September. In this volume, we clarify that Kendrick was named for John W. Kendrick and not James Kendrick, as it has been reported in many writings. The grandson of J. W. Kendrick lives in Israel and sent a sizable donation to the museum.

We are also ready to install the metal signs that will denote old schools and churches in the area. As soon as they are up, we have a tour booklet describing each site. It will be available for just $5.00.

We have over 40 signs to install and ask for your cooperation if you live at one of these historical sites.

All proceeds from these projects support the museum. Sharon Harris

Senior Center News

We play bingo the last Wednesday of the month at the Senior Center. So far, Rose Brocke is the champion. Come by and play at 10:30 am and stay for lunch.

The Old Time Fiddlers will be returning in September to entertain at the meal site.

All are welcome at the center for a time of sharing a meal and visiting. If you know of someone who needs or wants meals delivered, please contact Jerry at 208-289-5031. Soup is usually on by 11:30 and lunch is served at noon. Sharon Harris

Don't Step on That Stick!

When Georgia Martinell was walking her dog on the JK Path near the east end of Kendrick on June 22, she wasn't really paying attention to the path. She was looking ahead to homes nearby to be sure their dogs were not loose. It was approximately 90 degrees and at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Likely the rattle snake had crawled onto the path for some warmth.

She stepped on the rattler and it immediately bit her ankle on the right side. After biting her, it coiled and started rattling. Her dog was interested in the new phenomenon, and she had trouble controlling him.

Georgia hopped home on one foot holding the bitten foot in the air, since it was extremely painful. "Like being stung by 10,000 wasps," according to Georgia. She lives in the Tom McDowell house, so it was not easy getting home.

She fed and watered her dogs, and then called her sister, Angie Pomponio, who is a nurse. Angie told her to get to a hospital as fast as she could go. She got into her car and drove herself to Lewiston. Meanwhile, Angie was arranging for the crisis behind-the-scenes.

On her drive to Lewiston, she had to stop several times because the pain was excruciating. By the time she reached St. Joseph's Hospital, her tongue was swelling and her lips tingling. At St. Joes they put her on a jet plane to St. Alphonse Hospital in Boise, where there was anti-venom available. She spent 30 hours in ICU, and another 24 hours on the 9th Floor before being cleared to return home.

It was then she discovered she had to find a way home. Life flights are a one-way ticket. She is back home in Kendrick, thankful to be alive and well. Sharon Harris

New Insurance Office in Kendrick

Dawn Eden, of Futurity First Insurance Group, opened her insurance office recently in Kendrick. She grew up at Arrow Junction and she and her husband lived in Lewiston for several years prior to moving to Oregon.

Dawn's husband, Chris, retired in March and so the two of them decided to return to Northern Idaho.

While in Oregon, Dawn and Chris owned/operated a 65-foot passenger Sternwheeler and later worked in other industries. Dawn has been preparing individual and business tax returns in Oregon for over 20 years and has been a licensed Life and Health Insurance Agent for the past 11 years. Dawn is currently licensed as a Life & Health Insurance Agent in Oregon, Idaho, Washington, and Arizona.

One of Dawn's specialties is working with pre-retirees aging into Medicare and/or retirement. She helps to clarify Medicare options and uses a variety of tools to help with retirement planning. Dawn's process begins with listening in order to discover individual needs and goals and to assess the situation. Dawn says, "I can review your existing coverage or start from scratch with any questions you have. As an independent advisor, I provide truly objective guidance." Rather than just offer a few solutions, Dawn can access Futurity First Insurance Group's massive portfolio and come up with a customized plan tailored to clients' specific needs.

In her free time, Dawn enjoys spending time with family and friends, boating and camping. The Edens are excited to be joining the Kendrick community.

Dawn's office is located at 612 E main St. in Kendrick. She can be reached at 541-999-1150 and at dawneden@ffig.com. Sharon Harris

Western Tanager

The first time you see a male western tanager, you may rub your eyes in disbelief. It's a chunky bird, smaller than a robin, but larger than a sparrow or goldfinch. With its orange-red head and face, black back and wings, and yellow body, it reminds one of a child's crayon experiment. How could you NOT have noticed one before? Only the breeding males are this colorful. Out-of-season males, immature, and female Western Tanagers are less dramatic, with dull gray-green bodies and just a bit of yellow about the face. All of these birds have 2 distinct wing bars. Coupled with their tendency to stay high in the tree canopy, it's not surprising that they are infrequently seen.

Most birds with red plumage require certain plant pigments to provide the redness. This tanager has a different source: insects provide a substance called rhodoxanthin. Only by eating the "right" insects, does the Western Tanager have red-orange feathers. Over the course of the year, western tanagers visit the western side of our continent, from southwestern Alaska to Central America. Their chosen breeding sites are coniferous forests. They will nest in junipers, pines, firs, spruces or any other cone-bearing, needled tree, but rarely in oaks, maples or other broad-leaved species.

The females do the nest building and the mates supervise. The pair searches for a suitable site immediately on arriving in the spring and they prefer the tallest trees. Nest construction requires 4 or 5 days and follows a complicated pattern. First the female lays a foundation of large twigs. Then she weaves finer branches into the base, building up a sturdy cup. This is lined with soft fibers which may include grasses, mosses, feathers, cow or horsehair.

Western tanagers are insect eaters during the breeding season, catching wasps, ants, stinkbugs, grasshoppers, termites and even flying insects which they chase and catch on the wing. They also glean small insects from leaves and twigs high in the treetops. They will eat fruit in the fall and winter, and are very occasionally enticed by seeds to feeding trays.

Ornithologist Alexander Wilson formally described the species in 1811, based on a specimen collected by Lewis and Clark near Kamiah. The Western Tanager and all other North American tanagers are classified in the same family as Cardinals.

A Barn Raising on Bear Ridge

This old barn, that once belonged to the Ingle family, has been given a second chance. When Quality Construction of Deary purchased this place, it would have been easy to doze it over or light a match, but that is not in their DNA. Restoration of historic structures is what they are all about. They carefully disassembled the old barn and saved the hand-hewn beams. They were ready to reassemble on the morning of August 10th.

With the help of hydraulic equipment, a barn raising is not the physically tasking or dangerous work it once was. It is, however, a science. Things must fit back together the way they came apart. This barn was constructed using the mortise and tenon joint method of notching the wood.

Here is a shot of the crew, working under the careful supervision of Webb French, as they reassemble the barn.

The family is remodeling the old farmhouse to its original glory. A professional filming crew is on hand filming the progress for national television. It will be viewable after the first of the year on Magnolia Network with is part of the Discovery Channel.
